Fr Provincial's Easter Message

Ever since 39 Indians were captured in Mosul in June 2014, their families were waiting for their release and return, living on a false hope given by the Government that they were alive. They too had hope that they would be untied with their loved ones. But announcement by the External Affairs Minister on 20 March that they have been killed, brought down the skies upon all those eagerly waiting for their return, and their hopes were shattered. Recently while travelling through the war affected areas of Northern Sri Lanka in the month of February, I experienced an atmosphere of sadness and at the same time felt the aspiration of the people for peace and happiness. There are simple people trying to get out of fear and the days of war and trying to overcome the trauma. There are young people who have grown from their innocent childhood and trying to grapple with the realities, with a deep dent on their emotions. It was not easy to fathom the conflict of emotions in the people of the region, who have experienced extreme violence and oppression, perhaps betrayal too. Thousands of people were simply wiped out and many have been physically affected. One can feel the unspoken anguish and pain behind the smiling faces of children and the grownups. But seeing the people living with past memories, the present with courage and having positive outlooks, fills one with consolation. The peaceful and beautiful surroundings coupled with the efforts of those in rehabilitation brings hope. Easter gives us hope, following the experience of the Cross. Even before accepting the Cross Jesus experienced deep anguish, when he cried out, "My Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass from me" (Mt 26.39) and that cry of anguish includes the cries of thousands experiencing pains – physical, psychological, various oppressions, hatred, discrimination and much more. He did not turn away from the Cross, but completed the journey, as part of his commitment to the mission of the Father. Our pains and anxieties too get a new meaning and do not exclude the great hope of transformation and new life. The resurrection of the Lord fills us with that hope, strength and courage, and spurs us on to commit to fight the challenges of life and to bring the good news of joy to the troubled hearts. May the Risen Lord fill the hearts of all people with joy and hope of new life!

3 April. They are preparing for this and in retreat now. In the month of February Fr. Abraham, the director of XLRI, was here in Rome for 3 days meeting. Four of us met in the Gregorian Jesuit community for lunch and spent some time together. It is a joy to tell that Mahesh (Beadle) of the Scholastics at “Collegio Internazionale del Gesu, Rome.” Fr. General Arturo Sosa visited our community on 16 March to interact and share the experience of his recent visit in India.

Final Push ...

Sch. Vital Dungdung

As we move towards the final phase of the academic year, we had the Academy Day on 25th February. On this significant day we put up almost eighteen excellent cultural items. In the beginning of March, we paid a visit to Loyola Institute, Sreekaryam. There we had a session on the topic “Networking and Collaboration” in the Society of Jesus. This was followed by a short prayer service and a sumptuous dinner hosted by Loyola Fathers. After writing the Standardized Assistancy Test, we celebrated Ugadi, one of the major feasts of Andhra and Telangana. The Mass was offered by Fr. Prabhu, the minister and professor, who recently took his final vows.

In this month we had a three-day course on “Psycho Spiritual Integration” offered by Fr. Emma (MDU). After an array of activities, Vidyaniketan wears a serious atmosphere of study for the third and final exams.
